

Sake Tasting with Tim Copsey at County Hall Pottery

Immerse yourself in an evening of art, craftsmanship, and fine sake at County Hall Pottery's Metamorphic exhibition. This unique event showcases the extraordinary sake serving ware by artist Tim Copsey, whose pottery blends Japanese techniques with materials sourced from the Peak District.

Join us for an intimate talk where Tim will share the inspirations and stories behind his distinctive work. As part of this experience, guests will enjoy a guided tasting of four different styles of sake, served in Tim's handcrafted tokkuri flasks and guinomi cups.

Sake sommelier Kylie Clark will be on hand to introduce each sake, providing insights into their flavours, pairings, and the breweries that make them. Together, we'll explore the intersection of ceramics and Japanese culture in a relaxed and creative setting.

This is more than a tasting—it's a celebration of art, craft and culture. Don't miss this chance to engage with the artist, savour a selection of unique sakes, and connect with fellow art lovers.
