Space

7th April – 16th May 2021

16:9 is a billboard attached to the yard-side of Kingsgate Workshops that is visible from the street and Kilburn Grange Park. Kingsgate Project Space commissions new works from emerging and established artists specially for this site. Lydia Hamblet has been invited to create our fifteenth commission for this project.

Kick About is a new work for the 16:9 billboard by Lydia Hamblet which is a continuation of her series focussed on encounters in local sports pitches. Best viewed from Kilburn Grange Park.

Lydia Hamblet (b.1995) is a London based artist whose work takes the form of installations, public interventions and large scale prints for both public spaces and galleries. She received her MA from the Royal College of Art and previously her BA from Camberwell College of Arts. Recent group exhibitions include London Grads Now at Saatchi Gallery, RCA x Slade Degree Show at Kristin Hjellergerde Gallery, Public Notice: An Exhibition of Public Installations in East London and Against the Grain at Southwark Park Gallery. Lydia has also been awarded the Clifford Chance Printmaking Purchase Prize for 2020.
